

This simplified profile illustrates the large stratified ice mass, which may be moving downwards, that has developed in the entrance pit of Q5.